

XM Satillite Radio offers a great service with it's weather and traffic reporting. Often when I'm on the road I can dial ahead and know what the weather and traffic conditions will be in advance. Also, they are selling a service. Again, selling this service and offering their subscribers something they want and need. This is not a freebee. Why ask the listener to switch over to anothe frequency to find what they are looking for. It is a sad day when the U.S. Government has to interfere with the selling of legitimate, clean, service oriented products to its clients. Don't interfere on this one and let the market and the customers dictate their preference.
